1. On 30 May 75 the Argentine Army Command issued a statement confirming the death of 2Lt. (Subteniente) Juan Carlos Soraides, who was killed defending himself against an armed robbery assault while he was approaching his parked car in the Federal Capital.

2. Soraides, dressed in civilian clothes, was leaving his girlfriend's house very late at night when he was approached; when he resisted the robbers, he shot one of the three, but he in turn was shot. Finger prints of the dead criminal were not on police record. Investigation on this case is being continued.
